Bristol: Busch wins in 18th straight year

It didn't help the race was delayed twice by rain, and Harvick was mortified when NASCAR had to call a caution
so drivers could have the mud cleaned off their windshields.
"We all look like a bunch of boxos coming in to pli because we don't know how to pren the we don't know how to prep the track," he said.

Even the winner had mixed

feelings Kyle Busch backed into his feelings

Kyle Busch backed into his first victory of the season when he skirted past the spinning lead cars of Tyler Reddick and Chase thiscoe headed into the final nurn. Reddick was going to win before Briscoe made him spin.
Busch wound up with twing Hall
of Famer Richard Petty in win him ar nace for the 18th consecutive year.

"You saw what it's like on the last concer, the last lap, to drive around here every single lap," Busch said of winning on dirt. "You're just not breathing because you're so tensed up of not crashing. If it's a good show, it's a good show, I think Bristol is fine with or without (dirt)."

Adding a dirt track to the Cup calendar was furtially an attempt o add variety to a schedule that

Anding a ciri track to the cusp calendar was initially an artempt to add variety to a schedule that had grown but not changed much since NASCAR's 1949 inaugural season.

But this year was clearly about television. NASCAR had raced on Easter 10 times before, but all were weather-related reschedules and never deliberately marked for a holiday. It was Fox Sports that said NASCAR should seize the day the way the NFL does on Thanksgiving and the NBA on Christinas, even if it meant cutting the 38-race Cup schedule from February to November to just one off week-end.

The problem with making Bristol on dirt a television event is any new viewers won't sea content race like it the nest of the vear. It is an anomaly, not even close to what NASCAR does every week.

Harvick said it was "ridiculous" and even reigning series champion Kyel-Larson, arguably the best dirt racer in the country, though NASCAR should be racing on Bristol's concrete. The track goes back to asphalat for its fall playoff race.

1 think everybody assumes my opinion would be to race dur every weeks, but no 1 don't think Cup cars should be online Larson said.

At least half the field also proved to be unclear of the rules during the first rain delay. NASCAR had told teams in its NASCAR had told teams in its pre-race rules video that, unlike all the other races, scoring would be paused at the end of the stages. Despite the advisory, the teams were dumbfounded at the end of the score of the stages. Despite the help to the stages when Briscoe pitted from the lead and was still scored the leader over Busch, who stayed out to cycle to the from.

Winning crew chief Ben Beshore said he did watch the video but clearly didn't under-video but clearly clearly didn't under-video but clearly didn't under-vide video but clearly didn't under stand the rule and "I've been in Xfinity or Cup for 18 years."

It was never pretty Sunday, despite the exciting finish and the claims from some drivers the claims from some drivers they actually enjoyed the race. They've been there, done that twice now, and NASCAR's gim-mick is quickly growing fired.

It didn't help the race was delayed twice by rain, and Harvick was mortified when NASCAR had to call a caution so drivers could have the mud cleaned off their windshields. "We all look like a bunch of bozos coming in to pit because we don't know how to prep the track," he said.

Even the winner had mixed

feelings.

Kyle Busch backed into his Kyle Busch backed into his first victory of the season when he skirted past the spinning lead cars of Tyler Reddick and Chase Briscoe headed into the final turn. Reddick was going to win before Briscoe made him spin Busch wound up with tying Hall of Famer Richard Petty in win-ning a race for the 18th consecning a race for the 18th consecutive year.

"You saw what it's like on the last corner, the last lap, to drive around here every single lap," Busch said of winning on dirt. "You're just not breathing because you're so tensed up of not crashing. If it's a good show, it hank Bristolis fluo with or without (dirt)."

Addine a dirt track to the Cup.

nne with or without (dirt)."
Adding a dirt track to the Cup-calendar was initially an attempt to add variety to a schedule that had grown but not changed much since NASCAR's 1949 inaugural season.

But this year clearly about the levision. NASCAR had raced on Easter 10 times before, but all were weather-related reschedules and never deliberately marked for a holiday, it was Fox Sports that said NASCAR should seize the day the way the NFL does on Thanksgiving and the NBA on Christmas, even if it meant cutting the 38-race Cup schedule from February to November to just one off weekend.

The problem with making Pristol on ditra television event is any new viewers won't see another race like it the rest of the year. It is an anomaly, not even close to what NASCAR Add ose every week.

Harvick said it was "ridiculous" and even reigning series champion kyle larson, arguably the best dirt racer in the country, thought NASCAR should be racing on Bristol's concrete. The track goes back to asphalt for its fall playoff race.

"I think everybody assumes my opinion would be to race dirt every weekend, but no 1 don't think Cup cars should be office." It had be unclear of the rules during the first rain delay. ASCAR had tool teams my opinion would be office. It is all playoff race.

"I think everybody assumes my opinion would be nuclear of the rules during the first rain delay when the stages. Despite the advisor, the teams were dumbfounded at the end of the stages. Despite the advisor, the teams were dumbfounded at the end of the stages. Despite the advisor, the teams were dumbfounded at the end of the stages to supply the sayed out to ryell to the form.

Winning crew chief Ben Beshore said he did watch the video but clearly didn't under-stand the rule and "I've been in Xfinity or Cup for 18 years."

It was never pretty Sunday, despite the exciting finish and the claims from some drivers they actually enjoyed the race. They've been there, done that twice now, and NASCAR's gim-mick is quickly growing fired.
