WNBA

Formula crowns surprise No. 1 pick all-time

Mitchell Northam
USA TODAY

On April 13, the WNBA was scheduled to hold its 30th annual draft where the biggest stars from the college ranks and overseas leagues would be selected.

In 1997, Tina Thompson was the first WNBA draft pick, and one that worked out quite well for the Houston Comets as she helped them win four championships. More recently, three consecutive first-round picks by the Las Vegas Aces – Kelsey Plum, A'ja Wilson and Jackie Young – helped the franchise capture multiple league titles too.

In the mix to hear their name called first April 13 was UCLA center Lauren Betts, TCU point guard Olivia Miles, UConn sharpshooter Azzi Fudd, and 19-year-old Awa Fam from Spain.

With 29 drafts in the books for the WNBA, it's time to reflect on some league history and answer the question, who is the greatest No. 1 pick of all-time?

To answer that, we came up with a formula that put point valuations on accomplishments the player achieved with the team that drafted them. League MVP awards and championships weighed the heaviest, followed by Finals appearances and All-WNBA selections. Other awards, leading the league in a stat – like scoring or blocks – and All-Star selections were also weighted.

We're only ranking 25 players because it's too early to really evaluate these four recent No. 1 picks:

- Rhyne Howard, Atlanta Dream (2022).
- Aliyah Boston, Indiana Fever (2023).
- Caitlin Clark, Indiana Fever (2024).
- Paige Buckers, Dallas Wings (2025).

All of these players have already made All-Star teams and spent time with Team USA, but it's hard to make a judgment on their careers and properly rank them with limited data points.

With that, let's jump into the rankings.

25. Charli Collier, Dallas Wings (2021)

Collier played two seasons in Dallas and hasn't played a minute in the WNBA since 2022. The ex-Texas Longhorns star has since played in Turkey, Australia, China, Poland, Israel and Italy.

24. Ann Wauters, Cleveland Rockers (2000)

The post from Belgium played three unremarkable seasons for the Rockers. She would return to the WNBA a few times between 2004 and 2016 and was a reserve on the Sparks' 2016 championship team.

23. LaToya Thomas, Cleveland Rockers (2003)

Thomas played for five teams in six seasons, averaging 9.3 points, 3.6 rebounds and 1.1 assists per game.

22. Lindsey Harding, Minnesota Lynx (2007)

Drafted by the Mercury and immediately traded to the Lynx, Harding lasted two seasons in Minnesota. She made the All-Rookie team in 2007 and would go on to play seven more years in the WNBA after the Lynx traded her to the Mystics.

21. Janel McCarville, Charlotte Sting (2005)

The Minnesota Gophers' product didn't get the chance to make an impact with the Sting as the franchise folded after her second season, but McCarville was named the WNBA's Most Improved Player with the Liberty in 2007 and was a starter on the Lynx's 2013 title championship team.

20. Chiney Ogwumike, Connecticut Sun (2014)

The 2014 Rookie of the Year, Ogwumike missed two of her five seasons in Connecticut with injuries to her knee and Achilles. She made two All-Star teams and averaged 14.1 points per game for the Sun before being traded to the Sparks.

19. Margo Dydek, Utah Starzz (1998)

The 7-foot-2 center from Poland played for the franchises in Utah and then San Antonio for seven seasons, leading the WNBA in blocked shots six times and making an All-Star team. She's still the WNBA's all-time leader in blocks, 18 ahead of Brittney Griner.

18. Tina Charles, Connecticut Sun (2010)

Charles' first stint with the Sun lasted four years, but she was a four-time All-WNBA selection, a four-time All-Star, Rookie of the Year in 2010 and league MVP in 2012.

17. Kelsey Plum, San Antonio Stars (2017)

Plum played one season with the Stars before the franchise was moved to Las Vegas. She then helped the Aces win two championships, was the WNBA Sixth Player of the Year in 2021 and finished third in MVP voting in 2022. She made three All-Star teams with the Aces and earned one All-WNBA nod before joining the Sparks last season.

16. Sabrina Ionescu, New York Liberty (2020)

The Oregon product is likely going to quickly move up this list as the years go on, but she has earned four All-WNBA selections and four All-Star nods and helped the Liberty win the championship in 2024.

15. Chamique Holdsclaw, Washington Mystics (1999)

The 1999 Rookie of the Year, Holdsclaw made five All-Star teams with the Mystics and was an All-WNBA selection three times before she was traded to the Sparks in 2005. The Tennessee product and two-time Olympic gold medalist also won the scoring title in 2002 and twice led the WNBA in rebounding while in Washington.

14. Jackie Young, Las Vegas Aces (2019)

A four-time All-Star, a two-time All-WNBA selection and 2019 Rookie of the Year, Young has helped the Aces win three championships in her career.

13. Jewell Loyd, Seattle Storm (2015)

The 2015 Rookie of the Year and 2023 scoring champ, Loyd helped Seattle win two championships before joining the Las Vegas Aces last season. She was also a six-time All-Star and three-time All-WNBA selection while with the Storm.

12. Nneka Ogwumike, Los Angeles Sparks (2012)

In 2016, Ogwumike was MVP, an All-Star, first-team All-WNBA and first-team All-Defense and helped the Sparks win the championship. She helped Los Angeles make nine trips to the playoffs in 12 seasons.

11. Angel McCoughtry, Atlanta Dream (2009)

The Louisville product's career in Atlanta feels underrated. She guided the Dream to three appearances in the WNBA Finals, twice led the league in scoring and steals and was an eight-time All-Defense selection. McCoughtry also made five All-Star teams and six All-WNBA teams.

10. Breanna Stewart, Seattle Storm (2016)

Before joining the New York Liberty, Stewart helped Seattle win two championships and was MVP of the Finals in 2018 and 2020. She won her first league MVP award in 2018 and was an All-WNBA selection five times.

9. Brittney Griner, Phoenix Mercury (2013)

Griner twice led the WNBA in scoring while with the Mercury and topped the league's blocks leaderboard eight times. A 10-time All-Star and seven-time All-Defense selection, she helped Phoenix win a championship in 2014.

8. Tina Thompson, Houston Comets (1997)

The No. 1 overall pick of the first draft, Thompson was a key part of the Comets as they won four consecutive championships. She was an eight-time All-WNBA selection in Houston.

7. Maya Moore, Minnesota Lynx (2011)

Moore's career was brief, but she helped the Lynx win four championships in eight seasons. She was the league MVP in 2014 and made the All-WNBA team in all but one of her seasons. Moore was the Finals MVP in 2013 and was named MVP of the All-Star Game three times.

6. Lauren Jackson, Seattle Storm (2001)

The 6-foot-6 Australian center won three MVP awards and led the Storm to a pair of championships in eight seasons. Her 2007 performance is one of the best seasons by a player in WNBA history, as she was Defensive Player of the Year and led the league in scoring and rebounding.

5. Seimone Augustus, Minnesota Lynx (2006)

The former LSU star won four WNBA championships with the Lynx and helped them appear in the Finals six times. She was an eight-time All-Star and MVP of the 2011 Finals and ranks 10th all-time in field goals made.

4. Candace Parker, Los Angeles Sparks (2008)

Before winning titles in the latter stages of her career with the Chicago Sky and Las Vegas Aces, Parker was a star with the Sparks, piling up nine All-WNBA selections and 12 playoff appearances. She powered LA to the 2016 title and was Finals MVP. Parker also twice won the league MVP award with the Sparks, including her rookie season in 2008.

3. Sue Bird, Seattle Storm (2002)

Bird has her own statue in Seattle. She spent her entire career there, bringing the Storm four championships and helping them make the playoffs 18 times. The UConn product is the WNBA's all-time leader in assists, games played and minutes played. She was a 13-time All-Star and an eight-time All-WNBA selection.

2. Diana Taurasi, Phoenix Mercury (2004)

The WNBA's all-time scoring leader spent her entire career with the Mercury and won three championships. One of the best women's basketball players ever, Taurasi was an All-WNBA selection 14 times and led the league in scoring five times. She's also the WNBA's all-time leader in 3-pointers and free throws made and probably the league's greatest trash-talker.

1. A'ja Wilson, Las Vegas Aces (2018)

Still under the age of 30, Wilson has already won the league MVP award four times – more than anyone else in the history of the WNBA. The former South Carolina Gamecock has powered the Las Vegas Aces to three championships, is a seven-time All-Star, six-time All-WNBA selection and three-time Defensive Player of the Year. If she doesn't already, she'll have a real case for the greatest player in the history of the WNBA by the time she retires.

Young. Sadiq is also a willing blocker in the run game.

20. Cowboys (from Green Bay Packers) – CB Chris Johnson, San Diego State

This is currently slotted as Dallas' last pick until the Cowboys resurface at No. 92. A team in need of corner help would have to sift through some checkered options here – though Johnson, the Mountain West Conference's co-Defensive Player of the Year, whose stock has been surging in recent months, looks pretty clean and pretty promising as a long-term fix. DaRon Bland currently is the only corner with a long-term future on what will be a reimagined Dallas D in 2026 – Cobie Durant signing for just one year.

21. Pittsburgh Steelers – WR KC Concepcion, Texas A&M

He'd nicely thread the needle of being an immediately helpful asset to presumed QB1 Aaron Rodgers while also being a long-term building block for an organization that refuses to embrace a full-on reboot. Concepcion would slide right into the slot here between outside behemoth receivers DK Metcalf and Michael Pittman Jr. and would provide plenty of juice both as a run-after-catch demon and a punt returner.

22. LA Chargers – S Emmanuel McNeil-Warren, Toledo

The Bolts have a few areas to address but certainly need to get younger and better on the back line – particularly when Derwin James is deployed as a nickel. A 6-foot-4, 200-pound DB with a penchant for big hits and finding the ball seems like a good fit for a team that also prizes physicality.

23. Philadelphia Eagles – WR Denzel Boston, Washington

Maybe EVP/GM Howie Roseman opts for a pass rusher or a successor to RT Lane Johnson, who will be 36 in May. Either position would be on brand in Philly. But the 2026 season is also shaping up as the latest prove-it year for QB Jalen Hurts, whose deteriorated relationship with WR A.J. Brown has signaled the latter's departure later this spring, when Brown's contract becomes easier to trade from a salary cap perspective. Boston (6-foot-4, 212 pounds) is the kind of supersized red-zone target (20 TD catches since 2024) and boundary receiver who could provide an easy transition from Brown while giving Hurts quite a margin for error on 50-50 balls. Boston would also nicely complement the skill sets of DeVonta Smith and recently acquired Dontayvion Wicks.

24. Browns (from Jacksonville Jaguars) – CB Jermod McCoy, Tennessee

So this scenario has unfolded in such a way to suggest that maybe Cleveland needs to strongly consider taking a wideout at No. 6 and wait until here to see what's available from an offensive line perspective. But, at this point, better to reevaluate the receivers at No. 39 and go best available. And McCoy could be a steal at this spot – especially for a team that's in more of a long-term planning phase and doesn't need to rush him as his recovery from a torn ACL that cost him the 2025 season continues. The 4.37 40-yard dash he ran at the Vols' pro day was a great sign he's on track, if not all the way back – though McCoy was practicing by the end of his final year in Knoxville.

25. Chicago Bears – OT Kadyn Proctor, Alabama

Proctor's performance at the Tide's pro day, when he was clearly in optimal shape, helped showcase the kind of player and athlete he can be – which is to say one who could very nicely safeguard QB Caleb Williams ... and maybe catch a pass or two in the red zone given coach Ben Johnson's propensity for gadget plays. And, at a time when Chicago is facing patchwork options at left tackle after Ozzy Trapilo ruptured his patellar tendon in the playoffs, why not solidify the spot for the long term with a player who has so much potential.

26. Buffalo Bills – DE Keldric Faulk, Auburn

An intriguing gem in need of some polish, Faulk can bolster an area of concern given the Bills' wideout issue seems solved by the trade for DJ Moore. Faulk should be a three-down player who can kick inside on passing downs. He also has a reputation as being an excellent locker-room presence.

27. San Francisco 49ers – DE Malachi Lawrence, Central Florida

A team that's typically at its best when rolling deep on the D-line – but had a league-low 20 sacks in 2025 – adds depth off the edge with a player who has 19½ sacks over the last three years and could be even more productive as a pro.

28. Cardinals [Proposed trade from Houston Texans] – QB Ty Simpson, Alabama

Could Arizona be the team that comes up for the highly scrutinized 'Bama quarterback, though Simpson is still widely regarded as this draft's clear-cut No. 2 passer? It could make sense given veteran Jacoby Brissett remains in place as an ideal bridge option, and the weapons are fairly plentiful when you've got the league's best receiving tight end (Trey McBride) and a solid group of backs and receivers – and that's potentially an understatement if Marvin Harrison Jr. blossoms. And for anyone infatuated with the sterling tape Simpson compiled – in the first part of last season anyway – he could be a steal, especially at a time when clubs are more comfortable pivoting from Round 1 QBs anyway. Though Simpson only started for one season, he did throw (473) and complete (305) more passes than anyone in the SEC last year.

Maybe the Cards need to jump the Jets at No. 33 and maybe not. But coming up here from No. 34 probably only costs GM Monti Ossenfort a fourth-rounder while also conferring the fifth-year option that comes with being a first-rounder.

29. Chiefs (from Rams) – OT Max Iheanachor, Arizona State

A spectacular, strong, promising prospect – if one who's fairly new to football the past few years after growing up in Nigeria – Iheanachor could be the guy to better safeguard Mahomes into the future after he was too often running for his life in 2025 ... until he wasn't.

30. Dolphins (from Denver Broncos) – OT Blake Miller, Clemson

With Lemon already on the way in this scenario, Miami's next move – with the pick obtained for Waddle – could and should be bolstering the protection around Willis. Miller, an All-ACC right tackle, might be too good to pass up – especially with Dolphins RT Austin Jackson, who's never truly asserted himself at the NFL level, entering the final year of his contract.

31. New England Patriots – OT Caleb Lomu, Utah

The obvious issue for the AFC champs during the playoffs was protecting QB Drake Maye, who was sacked 21 times in four postseason games, including six times by Seattle in Super Bowl 60. RT Morgan Moses is under contract for two more years but just turned 35. A two-year starter at left tackle for the Utes, Lomu will need to get a little stronger in the NFL. But he might not need very long to displace Moses opposite LT Will Campbell.

32. Seattle Seahawks – RB Jadarian Price, Notre Dame

While they would have liked to retain Super Bowl MVP Kenneth Walker III, other priorities – like re-signing WR/KR Rashid Shaheed – took precedence. But Seattle doesn't have the luxury of standing pat in the run game, , given RB2 Zach Charbonnet tore his ACL in January. Price is a slasher who starred in a timeshare with Love and could nicely fill Walker's role – maybe one of Shaheed's, too, if the Seahawks opt to make him a bigger part of the offense in 2026.

As used in this notice, the term "claim" means, as to or against any of the Debtors and in accordance with section 101(5) of the Bankruptcy Code: (i) any right to payment, whether or not such right is reduced to judgment, liquidated, unliquidated, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, legal, equitable, secured, or unsecured; or (ii) any right to an equitable remedy for breach of performance if such breach gives rise to a right to payment, whether or not such right to an equitable remedy is reduced to judgment, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, secured, or unsecured.

As used in this notice, the term "entity" has the meaning given to it in section 101(15) of the Bankruptcy Code, and includes all persons, estates, trusts, and governmental units. In addition, the terms "persons" and "governmental units" are defined in sections 101(41) and 101(27) of the Bankruptcy Code, respectively.

THE BAR DATES

The Bar Date Order establishes the following bar dates for filing claims in these cases (collectively, the "Bar Dates"):

General Bar Date. Pursuant to the Bar Date Order, except as described below, all persons or entities other than governmental units, that hold claims (whether secured, unsecured, priority, or unsecured nonpriority, including section 503(b)(9) claims)[3] against the Debtors that arose before the Petition Date must file proofs of claim so as to be received on or before the General Bar Date (i.e., received by May 8, 2026 at 5:00 p.m. (Prevailing Central Time)).

Governmental Bar Date. Pursuant to the Bar Date Order, except as described below, all governmental units holding claims (whether secured, unsecured, priority, or unsecured nonpriority, including section 503(b)(9) claims) against the Debtors that arose before the Petition Date must file proofs of claim so as to be received on or before the Governmental Bar Date (i.e., received by September 4, 2026 at 5:00 p.m. (Prevailing Central Time)).

Amended Schedules Bar Date. Pursuant to the Bar Date Order, except as described below, all persons or entities holding claims affected by the Debtors filing a previously unfiled schedule of assets and liabilities and schedule of executory contracts and unexpired leases (the "Schedules"), or amending or supplementing their Schedules must file proofs of claims so as to be received on or before the Amended Schedules Bar Date.

Rejection Damages Bar Date. Pursuant to the Bar Date Order, except as described below, all persons or entities holding claims for damages arising from the rejection any executory contract or unexpired lease of the Debtors must file proofs of claim with respect to such rejection so as to be received on or before the Rejection Damages Bar Date. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a party to an executory contract or unexpired lease that asserts a claim on account of unpaid amounts accrued and outstanding as of the Petition Date pursuant to such executory contract or unexpired lease (other than a rejection damages claim) must file a proof of claim for such amounts on or before the General Bar Date, the Governmental Bar Date, or the Amended Schedules Bar Date, as applicable.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILING CLAIMS

I. WHO MUST FILE

The following persons or entities must file proofs of claim on or before the applicable Bar Date:

i. any person or entity whose claim against a Debtor is not listed in the applicable Debtor's Schedules, or is listed in such Schedules as "contingent," "unliquidated," or "disputed," if such person or entity desires to participate in any of these chapter 11 cases or share in any distribution in any of these chapter 11 cases;
ii. any person or entity who believes that its claim is improperly classified in the Schedules or is listed in an incorrect amount and who desires to have its claim allowed in a different classification or amount other than that identified in the Schedules;
iii. any person or entity who believes that its prepetition claim as listed in the Schedules is not an obligation of the specific Debtor against which the claim is listed and who desires to have its claim allowed against a Debtor other than that identified in the Schedules; and
iv. any person or entity who believes that its claim against a Debtor is or may be an administrative expense pursuant to section 503(b)(9) of the Bankruptcy Code.

II. WHO DOES NOT NEED TO FILE

The Bar Date Order provides that the following persons or entities, whose claims would otherwise be subject to the Bar Dates, need not file proofs of claim in these chapter 11 cases:

i. any person or entity who has already filed a signed proof of claim against the respective Debtor(s) with the Clerk of the Court or with Epiq, the Debtors' claims and noticing agent, in a form substantially similar to Official Form 410;
ii. any person or entity whose claim is listed on the Schedules if: (a) the claim is not scheduled as any of "disputed," "contingent," or "unliquidated;" (b) such person or entity agrees with the amount, nature, and priority of the claim as set forth in the Schedules; and (c) such person or entity does not dispute that its claim is an obligation only of the specific Debtor against which the claim is listed in the Schedules;
iii. any person or entity whose claim has previously been allowed by order of the Court on or before the applicable Bar Date;
iv. any person or entity whose claim has been paid in full by the Debtors pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code or in accordance with an order of the Court;
v. any Debtor having a claim against another Debtor;
vi. any person or entity whose claim is based on an equity interest in any of the Debtors;
vii. any current officer or director of any of the Debtors for claims based on indemnification, contribution, or reimbursement;
viii. any person or entity holding a claim for which a separate deadline is fixed by this Court;
ix. any person or entity holding a claim allowable under sections 503(b) or 507(a)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code as an expense of administration incurred in the ordinary course; provided, however, that any person or entity asserting a claim entitled to priority under section 503(b)(9) of the Bankruptcy Code must assert such claim by filing a request for payment or a proof of claim on or prior to the General Bar Date; and
x. the U.S. Trustee.

The fact that you have received this notice does not mean that you have a claim or that the Debtors or the Court believe that you have a claim against the Debtors. You should not file a proof of claim if you do not have a claim against any of the Debtors.

III. WHAT TO FILE

Parties asserting claims against the Debtors that arose before the Petition Date, including section 503(b)(9) claims, must use the copy of the proof of claim form (the "Proof of Claim Form") included with this notice. The Proof of Claim Form will state, along with the claimant's name: (i) whether the claimant's claim is listed in the Schedules and, if so, the Debtor against which the claimant's claim is scheduled; (ii) whether the claimant's claim is listed as disputed, contingent, or unliquidated; and (iii) whether the claimant's claim is listed as secured, unsecured, or priority. If a claim is listed in the Schedules in a liquidated amount that is not disputed or contingent, the dollar amount of the claim (as listed in the Schedules) also will be identified on the Proof of Claim Form. If you disagree with any of the information on the Proof of Claim Form regarding your claim, you must correct it on the Proof of Claim Form. Additional copies of the Proof of Claim Form may be obtained through the Debtors' case website, https://dm.epiq11.com/case/viridischemical or by request via email at ViridisChemical@epigglobal.com.

IV. WHEN AND WHERE TO FILE

Persons and entities must file a proof of claim so that it is received on or before the applicable Bar Date. Proofs of claim may be submitted: (i) electronically through Epiq's website, using the interface available on such website located at https://dm.epiq11.com/case/viridischemical or (ii) by delivering the original proof of claim to: If by First-Class Mail: Viridis Chemical, LLC, Claims Processing Center, c/o Epiq Corporate Restructuring, LLC, P.O. Box 4419, Beaverton, OR 97076-4419. If by Overnight Mail or Hand Delivery: Viridis Chemical, LLC, Claims Processing Center, c/o Epiq Corporate Restructuring, LLC, 10300 SW Allen Blvd., Beaverton, OR 97005.

Proofs of claim will be deemed filed when actually received by Epiq.

Proofs of claim may not be delivered via facsimile or electronic mail transmission. Any facsimile or electronic mail submissions will not be accepted.

Proofs of claim will be collected, docketed, and maintained by Epiq. If you would like a copy of your proof of claim returned to you as proof of receipt, please enclose an additional copy of your proof of claim and a self-addressed postage-paid envelope.

All Proof of Claim Forms must be signed by the claimant or, if the claimant is not an individual, by an authorized agent of the claimant. The Proof of Claim Form must be completed in English and be denominated in United States currency. You should set forth with specificity the legal and factual basis for the alleged claim and attach to your completed Proof of Claim Form any documents on which the claim is based (or, if such documents are voluminous, attach a summary) or an explanation as to why the documents are not available.

Any person or entity asserting claims against multiple Debtors must file a separate proof of claim with respect to each Debtor. In addition, any person or entity filing a proof of claim must identify on its Proof of Claim Form the particular Debtor against which the person or entity asserts its claim. Any proof of claim filed under the Debtors' jointly administered case number in these chapter 11 cases or that otherwise fails to identify a Debtor shall be deemed as filed only against Debtor Viridis Chemical, LLC. If an entity lists more than one Debtor on any one proof of claim, the relevant claims will be treated as filed only against the first listed Debtor.

NO REQUIREMENT FOR STOCKHOLDERS TO FILE PROOFS OF INTEREST

Any entity holding an interest in the Debtors (an "Interest Holder"), which interest is based exclusively upon the ownership of: (i) a membership interest in a limited liability company; (ii) common or preferred stock in a corporation; or (iii) warrants or right to purchase, sell, or subscribe to such a security or interest (any such security or interest being referred to herein as an "Interest"), need not file a proof of interest on or before the General Bar Date; provided, however, that Interest Holders who wish to assert claims against the Debtors that arise out of or relate to the ownership or purchase of an Interest, including claims arising out of or relating to the sale, issuance, or distribution of the Interest, must file a proof of claim by the applicable Bar Date, unless another exception applies.

CONSEQUENCES OF FAILURE TO FILE A PROOF OF CLAIM
