Failed revenge wasn't all Steelers QB's fault

Jarrett Bell
Columnist
USA TODAY

PITTSBURGH — “Come get me.” Aaron Rodgers was undoubtedly game for the challenge of trying to hang one on his former team when he teased a particular Green Bay Packers edge rusher while in the midst of the drama on Sunday night Oct. 26 at Acrisure Stadium.

Then again, Rodgers should be careful of what he wishes for.

“I told him, ‘I’m getting close,’” Packers defensive end Rashan Gary recalled of the in-game banter with Rodgers from the 35-25 smashing of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

“He was saying, ‘I’m still moving good. I’m 41. You’ve got to come and get me, RG.’”

“We got back to work, and I think they ran it the next play.”

Gary ultimately got to Rodgers, collecting two sacks, two quarterback hits and two tackles for a loss as the Packers defense forced the iconic quarterback to get off his rhythm in a contest that decisively flipped in the second half.

And that was just one layer of the trouble that left Rodgers and his team battered and frustrated after a second consecutive loss.

It wasn’t so much a prime-time showcase for a revitalized Rodgers to extract a measure of payback against the franchise he spent the first 18 years of his NFL career with.

Instead, it turned out to be the perfect opportunity for Rodgers’ former understudy, Jordan Love, to upstage his NFL mentor.

Love, 26, was simply fabulous — especially in a second half that saw the Packers score on all five of their possessions, excluding the clock-killing drive at the end. In passing for 360 yards and three TDs with zero interceptions, Love provided another statement about the Packers’ future against the symbolic backdrop of the past.

It helped Green Bay (5-1) improve

Aaron Rodgers reacts after an offensive penalty is called on his Steelers during the fourth quarter against the Packers. JOE SARGENT/GETTY IMAGES on its NFC-best record mark while the Steelers (4-3) stumbled yet again.

At one point, Love tied a franchise record by completing 20 consecutive passes. He weaved laser strikes into tight windows. He improvised to buy time for big plays. He stood tall in the face of blitzes and other forms of punishment. He was cool and confident.

Love looked, well, a lot like Rodgers in his prime.

“He was on fire,” Packers coach Matt LaFleur said. “That’s why I wanted him to keep throwing the football.”

Rodgers couldn’t help but notice what the raucous crowd witnessed in Love, complimenting his patience, efficiency and ability to improvise.

“I thought J-Love played great,” Rodgers said. “He was super-efficient. He didn’t get sacked and moved around really well, made some plays outside the pocket. Thought he played outstanding.”

Someone asked Love if his time serving as Rodgers’ backup had an effect that played out on Sunday. Maybe. Maybe not.

“I’m just trying to play my game,” Love said. “Obviously, being behind Aaron for three years and being able to see him and the high-level play he was capable of going out there and doing, and just being able to put the money on the money at all times was very cool for me to see. But for me, it comes down to just being the best quarterback I can be.”

Which also says something about lessons learned well.

That’s not to suggest that Rodgers played poorly. He completed 24 of 36 passes for 219 yards with two touchdowns and posted a 101.5 passer rating.

He didn’t commit a turnover. It’s just that on a night when the Steelers defense collapsed in the second half, when his team settled for too many field goals because it couldn’t finish touchdown drives, when self-inflicted mistakes were damning, Pittsburgh needed Rodgers to be even better.

Then again, that was a tough ask when he was under constant duress. He was sacked three times, including a takedown from Micah Parsons to go with Gary’s two cases, but it could have been much worse. He was nimble enough to avoid sacks for much of the night, which also meant that he was so uncomfortable running for his life.

Which is exactly what Green Bay envisioned.

“Going into the game, that was one of our goals, just trying to make it hard for him to see his reads, make him move around a lot in the pocket because ... he’s a Hall of Famer,” Gary said. “You give him time in the pocket to pat the ball, he’s going to give his playmakers opportunities to make plays. You’ve got to find a way, when he does hold onto the ball, to get there. To get him off his spot.”

In the days leading up to Sunday night, Rodgers downplayed the revenge factor and maintained that the matchup would have been more significant had it occurred at Lambeau Field.

Maybe so. Maybe not. It was still weird enough for Rodgers, especially as a significant portion of the crowd supported the Packers — evidenced by the familiar, “Go, Pack, Go!” chant that got louder as the game progressed.

“I heard that chant for 18 years,” Rodgers said. “Packers fans really travel well. First time in a while I’ve used a silent count for a home game. That’s a credit to those Packers fans.”

It must have felt too weird. Like an out-of-body experience that went beyond the edge rushers seeking sacks.

“Disappointed,” Rodgers described of his emotions. “Disappointed that I didn’t play better, that we didn’t play better, especially in the second half.”

In other words, as game as he was, they didn’t have enough game.

Notice of Proposed Class Action Settlement

This Legal Notice May Affect Your Rights
Please Read It Carefully

A settlement has been proposed in a class action lawsuit regarding the Colgate-Palmolive Co. Employees' Retirement Income Plan (the "Plan") sponsored by Colgate-Palmolive Co. ("Colgate") that is now pending in the United States District Court of the Southern District of New York (the "Court"). The settlement has been preliminarily approved by the Court.

Who is Included in the Class?

The Class is a mandatory non-opt-out class of Plan participants who received lump sum pension payments from the Plan and may have a right under a Plan amendment to receive an additional payment in the form of an annuity. The Class is defined as:

any person who, under any of Appendices B, C or D of the Plan, is entitled to a greater benefit than his or her Accrued Benefit as defined in Plan § 1.2, provided such person received a lump sum payment from the Plan, and the beneficiaries and estates of any such person.

In addition, to be a member of the Class, you must be identified on the spreadsheet maintained by the parties and included as part of the Settlement Agreement for purposes of administering the settlement.

What is the Case About?

This is a federal pension benefit class action seeking annuity benefits under the Residual Annuity Amendment (the Plan amendment referenced above). It alleges that the Plan failed to calculate benefits in accordance with the terms of the Amendment and federal pension law, resulting in underpayments to Plan participants. Defendants deny that any miscalculations occurred or that any additional payments are required. However, after more than 9 years of litigation, the parties have decided to settle the case to avoid the risk and expense of continued litigation.

What Does the Proposed Settlement Provide?

The settlement, which must be approved by the Court, creates a total settlement fund of $332 million, which will be used to pay benefits to Class Members, attorneys' fees and expenses, a service award for the Class Representative (if any), and settlement administration costs. If the settlement receives final approval, Class Members would receive (1) future annuity payments (or an increase in future annuity payments that the Plan is already paying), provided the Class Member (or the Class Member's spouse at the time of the original payment) is alive as of August 1, 2025; and (2) an immediate lump sum to make up for missed prior annuity payments. Heirs of deceased participant Class Members, or spouse Class Members, would only receive the lump sum for prior missed annuity payments.

What Do You Need to Do?

You need do nothing if you received a Notice of Class Action Settlement and Fairness Hearing in the mail. If you did not receive such a notice and believe you are included in the Class, you should inform Class Counsel and Defense Counsel who are listed below. Class Members may not opt-out of the settlement. If the Court approves the settlement, Class Members (or heirs) will receive payment directly via check.

Objections to the Proposed Settlement

A hearing will be held at the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, 40 Foley Square, New York, NY 10007-1312, in Courtroom 1106, on January 12, 2026 at 2:30 p.m. This hearing is known as the "Fairness Hearing." Class Members may appear at the Fairness Hearing, in person or by counsel of his or her own choice at his or her own expense, and oppose the fairness, reasonableness, and adequacy of the settlement, the application for an award of attorneys' fees and expenses, settlement administration costs or a service award for the Class Representative. To oppose, the Class Member must, on or before December 12, 2025, file with the Clerk of the Court a notice of intention to appear and a written statement that indicates all bases for objection, all documentation in support of the objection, and legal authority, if any, supporting the objection, and a list of witnesses in support of the objection. The Class Member must provide copies to Class Counsel and Defense Counsel, received no later than December 12, 2025, who are:
